SHAO-LIN FESTIVAL IN COLORADO ADVANCED IRON RULER FORM!

The Iron Ruler ("Sai" in Japanese) is a deadly weapon but was sometimes referred to as "non-lethal" because it doesn't have a sharp tip or a cutting edge. It is actually a Chinese weapon from the Tang and Song dynasty and later adopted by the Japanese in the 17th Century. This ancient weapon was used to strike pressure points and damage meridians, with the added possibility of killing without the sight of blood.
